Presidents Message: By Pete Hauser

Happy New Year ! I hope this New Year brings you good health, prosperity and happiness. At this time of year some people make resolutions for the new year, and for years to come. I'd like to suggest some resolutions to help our Guild for this year and many years to come. As a group, we don't want to be stuck in the mud.

Approximately 25% of our membership consistently attends our monthly meetings. We want to increase that number. As you speak with other members, please encourage them to attend the monthly meetings; as everyone's presence and input are welcome.

If anyone has ideas on how to attract new members and increase membership, please let us know via email or the meeting suggestion box.

We have projects in need of attention (our Website, speakers, permanent facility, road trips, fundraisers, etc), and a great group of Volunteer Board Members who would love your assistance in getting these initiatives accomplished. At the January Board meeting, we established Committee positions that will help us with some of these projects and we invite you to join a committee that interests you. I'm asking each member who reads this message to make a resolution to help strengthen and enhance our Guild by actively participating on a committee. We really need the help of our members to get moving in the right direction and keep us from being "stuck in the mud."

Congratulations to all of our members who have their art in our "Winter Arts Celebration" show at the Summerlin Library. The participation tripled from the 2014 library show, and the reception was fantastic! Thank you to all of our board members and committee volunteers who helped to make this show a success! If you haven't yet been there to see the display, please do so; the art exhibit runs through February 23rd.

Yamile Gaez, Speaker

702 363-8044 www.redrockartcenter.com

Yamile will be speaking about the artistic skills necessary to conceive an appropriate and workable design with stained glass and the technique used for cutting. It takes several months to learn that as many pieces cannot be cut.

She will explain the engineering skills used to assemble the pieces, and how the measurements are used to ensure a perfect fit in the window.

She will also explain how the subject matter of the window has to suit the location (theme) and will show some small scale designs that will be enlarged to the size of the window.

Yamile will present photos of her stained glass art pieces and albums with many pieces that she has done in the Las Vegas area, along with glass pieces (samples), there are hundreds of colors and textures of glass.

Architectural Glass has no color but does have beautiful textures, as she will demonstrate with the samples.

Yamile will present photos of the latest pieces she has designed, some of which are still in construction and how to explain the work to the customer so that they will understand and be pleased with the work being done.

Yamile has designed stained glass for 4 years at the Las Vegas Art Center which was the only one in Las Vegas, until they closed. She then opened a store at Boca Park for 10 years (now closed).

She has over 18 years experience working with stained glass design and placement and has never had an unhappy customer.

A Message From Barbara Sullivan:

My Dearest Friends!

Update... After living here for 60 years, I will be leaving Las Vegas, January 30th. My kids are moving me. It's difficult and sad to tell you this but at the same time my heart is full of wonderful, exciting, vivid memories of each and every one of you. I will always have these memories with me. It's a new chapter in my life as my children have made arrangements at a beautiful assisted living, near them, in Palmdale, CA. Twenty minutes from my daughter and one mile from my son. In fact I can look out the window and see my son's building where he works at Lockheed Martin.

Love and Blessings to all of you.

Barbara Sullivan

Barbara has been a long time supporter and member of CCAG. She has generously donated several items, catalogs and magazines to the CCAG. We appreciate the time and support she has given us through the many years and we will miss her. We all have been very blessed to know her and enjoy her wonderful paintings and stories about her life experiences.
